AUG 10 1918 PREVENT

EXPERIMENTAL THRASHING MACHINE FIRES!

1
C426

Thrashing machine fires cause large losses of grain and machinery in every wheat-growing section of the country.

During the thrashing seasons 1914 to 1917, inclusive, such estimated losses in the Pacific Northwest alone amounted to $1,500,000.

The grain thus destroyed would have furnished bread rations for an army of 2,400,000 men for one month.

FIRES AND DUST EXPLOSIONS
IN THRASHING MACHINES ARE PREVENTABLE.
